Our mission to Save Lives and Bring Hope to Those Affected by Suicide would not be possible without the community engagement.

The Indiana Chapter won the prized Richard E. Kirkoff Overall Chapter of the Year Award (out of 74 AFSP Chapters) for the first time at our 2023 annual AFSP Chapter Leadership Conference.

Taking Action To Save Lives

Together We Are Leading The Fight Against Suicide

Since 1987, the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP) has been working to save lives and bring hope to those affected by suicide. As the nation's leading volunteer-led organization dedicated to understanding and preventing suicide, our efforts have generated significant advancements in the fight against the 11th leading cause of death in the U.S.

AFSP is also the largest private funder of suicide prevention research, and because we've built the infrastructure to deliver evidence-based programs to local communities across the country, our work impacts millions of people. We are consistently ranked one of the best charities for mental health, and we're powered by everyday heroes like you!

Through our network of 74 chapters nationwide AFSP has made an impact in communities by developing and funding suicide prevention research, education, advocacy, and loss support programs and initiatives.

Suicide was responsible for 48,183 US deaths in 2021, which is about one death every 11 minutes. The number of people who think about or attempt suicide is even higher. In 2021, an estimated 12.3 million American adults seriously thought about suicide, 3.5 million planned a suicide attempt, and 1.7 million attempted suicide. Suicide affects people of all ages. In 2021, suicide was among the top 9 leading causes of death for people ages 10-64. Suicide was the second leading cause of death for people ages 10-14 and the 3rd leading cause of death for people ages 25-34.

Our Chapter is actively engaged in the following programs:

- Supporting suicide loss survivors through events like International Survivors of Suicide Loss Day and programs like Healing Conversations
- Organizing community events and programming
- Engaging Hoosiers in our individual giving society, Circle of Hope
- Advocating for mental health through various initiatives like State Capitol Day
- Conducting prevention education workshops and trainings in schools, faith communities, workplaces, and more.
- Distributing suicide loss and prevention resources for free to communities across the state
- Cultivating Research Connections to further our understanding and prevention efforts
- Supporting those at risk and individuals with lives experience

Advancing Innovative Solutions Through Research

Founded as a research organization dedicated to exploring how to save lives, now AFSP is the largest private funder of suicide prevention research, shaping suicide prevention strategies around the world. Each year, AFSP welcomes a broad range of grant applications from a diverse group of researchers. We create optimum impact by: funding innovative new research through our research grants program, building a research community by recruiting, training, and guiding researchers, and sharing our findings with a general audience to increase understanding.

Our most recent grant cycle funded 27 new research grants totaling $9.1 million, making the organization's total current research investment more than $32 million.

Advocating for Suicide Prevention

AFSP's Public Policy team mobilizes volunteer Field Advocates across the country at the federal, state, and local levels urging public officials to prioritize suicide prevention and mental health legislation. Our efforts this fiscal year resulted in the successful passage of six federal bills and 43 state bills centering on mental health and suicide prevention.

AFSP also played a leading role in supporting the passage of the National Suicide Hotline Designation Act, which made 988 the universal three-digit phone number for the suicide prevention and mental health crisis hotline.

Our annual Indiana State Capitol Day at the Indiana State House is February 28, 2024.

Educating Communities

AFSP's evidence-informed prevention education and partnership programs help inform people on what leads someone to consider suicide, how to spot warning signs and talk safely and compassionately to those they care about, connect people to help and resources, and support at-risk individuals following an attempt.

Our signature education program, Talk Saves Lives: An Introduction to Suicide Prevention, helps participants understand the health, historical, and environmental factors that put individuals at risk, behaviors to look for, and how to get help for someone in a suicidal crisis. AFSP also offers a variety of programs modified to meet all aspects of the community, including: veterans, LGBTQ+, youth and young adult, seniors, BIPOC populations, workplaces and more.

Supporting Loss Survivors

Each survivor of suicide loss grieves in their own way, and on their own timeline. Connecting with others who have lost a loved one to suicide, and hearing how they have navigated the pain of that loss, is a fundamental step toward hope and healing. AFSP provides compassion and understanding to help loss survivors heal. Initiatives like our Healing Conversations program gives those who have lost someone to suicide the opportunity to talk with our trained volunteers, who have experienced suicide loss themselves. The goal of this connection is to help suicide loss survivors navigate this challenging journey by offering support, connection and resources.

Additionally, AFSP hosts events across the country and around the world for International Survivors of Suicide Loss Day, where survivors of suicide loss come together to find connection, understanding, and hope through their shared experiences.

This past year 284 events took place in 24 different countries with 11 sites in Indiana with 150+ attendees.

This year, International Survivors of Suicide Loss Day is Saturday, November 23, 2024.
