

Seth's Story

I wish to have a gaming room

Seth, 8
heart condition

Shortly after Seth's very first birthday, he suddenly fell very ill, resulting in his parents rushing him to the hospital. He was then diagnosed with a heart condition and had to undergo multiple x-rays, CT scans, heart echoes, and relied on additional oxygen support. During this time, his family had to take leave from work to ensure that Seth always had someone with him during these difficult times.

Seth is now eight years old and is doing well! He finds comfort in playing all kinds of video games, exploring new and fun virtual worlds that help him forget about the realities of his diagnosis. He loves sharing his gaming experience with his family and friends, and wished to have a gaming room where he could spend all his free time playing his favourite game, Fortnite. He wanted a television as tall as he is so included in his gaming room was a 75-inch television, a PlayStation 5 with controllers, a bean bag chair, and a sound bar. Seth and his family were "overjoyed" by everything they received. Seth now has a fun and cozy space that he can enjoy with his loved ones for many years to come!
