

TAJA'S STORY

Watch: youtu.be/6t4pMixYc08

What about Taja's story surprised you? What inspired you?

Think of a time when you were hesitant to share a vulnerable piece of information about yourself. Why do you think Taja was reluctant to share her housing situation with her guidance counselor?

If it weren't for Taja's guidance counselor, she may not have known about Covenant House or the staggering amount of youth facing her very same situation. What role can awareness play in our communities in supporting these youth? How can you lend to this awareness?

Covenant House was able to provide Taja with practical assistance, basic life skills, a sense of security and family. How might these elements contribute to your personal growth and resilience, and what aspects of this support system do you find most crucial in overcoming the obstacles you might be facing?"

What questions about youth homelessness do you still have?
