

COVENANT HOUSE'S 5TH ANNUAL SLEEP OUT: (RE)INSURANCE INDUSTRY EDITION

Friday, September 13, 2019 | 7pm - 7am | New York City

Insurance and (re)insurance industry professionals are spending a night sleeping on the street so homeless youth don't have to.

Sleep Out participants raise critical funds and awareness for Covenant House, an organization providing food, clothing, shelter and essential services like job training, education, mental health care, and legal aid to youth overcoming homelessness across the U.S., Canada, and Latin America.

At the Sleep Out, participants meet Covenant House youth, hear their stories, and learn about youth homelessness before heading outside with cardboard boxes and sleeping bags for the overnight.

Over the last five years, these insurance and (re)insurance companies have taken to the streets for homeless youth. Will you join them?
