

EMERGENCY RESPONSE: YOUR CHURCH CAN HELP

Help the children of Aleppo

Dear Pastor,

As of December 30th, a country-wide ceasefire came into effect and is largely holding. Evacuation from Aleppo is complete, totaling 36,086 people that are now in desperate need of assistance along with the many more that had already fled. Cold weather conditions are only making things more difficult. We've heard from staff on the ground of a few incidents of newborn deaths as a result of the cold. The children of Aleppo need your church now.

World Vision has been and will continue to work in the Aleppo Province, but the need is overwhelming. We cannot do this critical work without your church's help.

Please consider an offering this weekend for the children of Aleppo. Your gift will help provide desperately needed things like hygiene kits, delivery kits, blankets, mattresses, jerry cans for drinking water, and more. Thank you for leading your church to care for the most vulnerable children.

I will take refuge in the shadow of your wings until the disaster has passed.

—Psalm 57:1 (NIV)

How your church can help:

- Pray for children and their families who have fled Aleppo.
- Give a one-time gift to help provide emergency relief supplies including hygiene and delivery kits, blankets, mattresses, jerry cans, and more to the most vulnerable.
